This year has been one to remember! My senior year is coming to a close and I truly couldn't have wished for a better group of peers to work with. The support I have been receiving from my family and friends has given me the courage to audition for my first, and only role in my high school career. My piece of advice to those who follow behind me is to not let your fears get in your way. Your cast mates and crew members are going to be there for you and will support you. You will grow close and bond together, and in the end when it comes to showtime, you forget that there is an audience and all you focus on is you playing the part with your friends. Enjoy it while you can, time flies when you're having fun

Thank you to my crafty, amazing parents, for contributing so much time and effort to this production!

Thank you, to the director, for letting me have the privilege of working alongside so many brilliant, friendly, amazing people! As the rule goes: "When the emotion gets too big, we sing! When it gets too big to sing, we dance!" However, since I am currently not at liberty to do either, I'll simply leave with a final phrase: "Break A Leg!" To all my associates of the stage!

This will be long, but it's my last one so I don't care! I would like to thank everyone who made it possible for me to do drama for these past four years. Starting with Sarge, you brought me into this world and I fell in love with it, and I can't thank you enough. I miss you like crazy! To my parents, for driving me back and forth, allowing me to spend hours after school working on shows, helping with build and supplies, and being all around supportive. Thank you to Leigh for saving our program and providing us an absolutely fabulous year full of fun and love. It's been amazing working with you! Thank you to everyone else who has made production possible, including Mr. Stanton, Kay, Dwight, and many more! Lastly, thank you to my wonderful drama family. I can't even begin to imagine doing this with anyone else but you all, and the friendships we have made will forever hold a special place in my heart. I love you all, and good luck next year!

identities...

A WORD FROM THE DIRECTOR

Did you know that your children are hardworking, patient, and kind? Did you know that they are understanding, outrageous, and outstanding? Did you know that every time we hit a snag, a difficulty, a conundrum and of course, encounter an enigma, they are willing to step up and do what needs to be done to make the show a success?

I never cease to marvel at their consistency.

-Leigh Fryling

MOST SPECIAL THANKS

To Emily Parker, without whom we would not have had the wonderful pit orchestra we have for this show.

To all the parents who have dedicated their time, effort and donations to make our program a success.

To the hospitality crew, for protecting the sanity of the director.

To the administration for their guidance and support every day.

To the Seniors, for whom we wish the very best. We believe in you.

To the Zesty Lemon, who has provided us with so many laughs.
